

Helvar announces Mymesh integration for its new Freedom Wireless product family

Helvar announces that Freedom, Helvar's new wireless luminaire component product family, integrates with one of the most advanced network technologies in the world; Mymesh. The partnership provides a unique luminaire concept where any Helvar LED driver is wirelessly managed by a Freedom Node Mymesh radiocommunication unit. Having such luminaires in place creates an omnipresent mesh network that can be used as a sophisticated data-infrastructure for any environment.

"Both companies have a rich heritage and uphold the same vision. Together we believe that the future of lighting is wireless, secure and intelligent. Therefore, this collaboration is the obvious path to take. We are very excited to be working with Helvar on this great wireless endeavor where lighting is just the beginning of 'Smart'." – Han Bak, CEO of Chess.

A Freedom Mymesh solution offers the opportunity to directly tap into the Mymesh ecosystem, seamlessly integrating with many other wireless sense & control devices. The robust, scalable and secure characteristics make Mymesh very popular within the professional and demanding environment. Today, Mymesh wirelessly connects and controls large-scale networks at hundreds of A-level locations worldwide.

Tero Päärni, Head of Luminaire Components Sales at Helvar: "We are excited to announce Mymesh to be part of our rapidly growing ecosystem of Helvar Freedom partners. The Mymesh solution offers a robust, scalable and secure wireless network with excellent flexibility and integration possibilities, which our customers will benefit in the wireless world."
